

iXplore Conference

for students interested in health, science, mathematics, engineering and technology careers

March 20, 2010
8:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Come and join over 200 students from the Central Valley at Reedley College to discover careers in health, science, mathematics, engineering, and technology. These careers will ignite your imagination. Meet doctors, nurses, engineers, scientist, and others who will guide you into dreaming a career for your future. This hands-on conference will provide exposure to CSI activities using DNA, making robots out of Legos, creating your name using binary numbers, taking a tour of the native plant species on Reedley College's 300-acre-farm, and much more. Students will also be able to take part in STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics) and health demonstrations with Reedley College STEM Ambassadors.

Please contact us for large groups. Parents welcome!
